IPC Receives a 2009 INTERNET TELEPHONY Excellence Award

MAXaccess 1000 Honored For Delivering Exceptional IP Communications Solutions

Jersey City, N.J., – October 15, 2009 – IPC Systems, the leading provider of indispensable unified communications solutions to financial services firms, today announced that Technology Marketing Corporation (TMC) has named MAXaccess 1000 as a recipient of the 2009 INTERNET TELEPHONY Excellence Award presented by INTERNET TELEPHONY magazine.

MAXaccess 1000 is a trader mobility solution that extends trading communications to any PC with broadband access. With its deployment, a firm can lower its total cost of ownership by leveraging its existing IT resources. Through the use of IP, MAXaccess 1000 is the optimal complementary solution to the IPC desktop turret, further providing traders with access to features on their primary turret with the same operating efficiency. The added mobility helps increase productivity and improves ROI by protecting traders against unforeseen business disruptions. As advanced networks gain further global momentum, IPC's highly integrated communications platform streamlines firms' network and communications workflow, enabling them to be more agile, and their traders to be more productive.

"Internet Telephony's recognition of MAXaccess 1000 is a testament of IPC's strength and leadership in empowering firms with innovative cost-effective trader voice solutions for competitive advantage," said Michael Speranza, senior vice president, Global Product Management, IPC. "With rising concerns over the pandemic flu, firms are implementing a holistic business continuity planning and data recovery solution to minimize risk and transform prudence into profit."

"The editors of INTERNET TELEPHONY were pleased to grant IPC Systems with an INTERNET TELEPHONY Excellence Award for their achievements in advancing IP communications and providing genuine solutions in the marketplace. MAXaccess1000 has proven its outstanding contribution to IP communications and delivered winning solutions for its customers," said Erik Linask, group editorial director, INTERNET TELEPHONY.

"We are very pleased to present IPC with a 2009 INTERNET TELEPHONY Excellence Award. MAXaccess has made an incredible contribution to IP Communications and has also delivered great solutions for its clients," stated Rich Tehrani, chief executive officer, TMC.

The 2009 INTERNET TELEPHONY Excellence Award winners are published in the October 2009 issue of INTERNET TELEPHONY magazine, www.itmag.com.
