FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

IPC Named to the 2016 IDC Financial Insights FinTech Rankings

Ranking reflects IPC's leading role in transformation of Financial Markets Technology Solutions

NEW YORK, September 8, 2016 - IPC Systems, Inc., a leading global financial markets technology and service provider, today announced the company is ranked number 33 in the Top 100 global providers of financial technology on the 2016 IDC Financial Insights FinTech Rankings.

“The IDC ranking recognizes the technological transformation IPC is enabling within the industry through our cloud strategy and the products and partnerships we are developing,” said Neil Barua, Chief Executive Officer, IPC, “We are committed to providing our customers with solutions which address their most pressing business needs and help them to maintain their competitive edge.”

“For 13 years, financial institution executives globally have relied on the IDC Financial Insights FinTech Rankings program to make critical investment decisions on the technologies that transform their businesses,” said Jerry Silva, Research Director, IDC Financial Insights. “A company’s presence on the IDC Financial Insights FinTech Rankings list – the leading market index of technology spending in financial services – confirms that the technology provider has a proven track record for offering the solutions that the worldwide financial services industry relies on to ensure success.”

IPC is a technology and service leader, powering the global financial markets.
